

For the technical administrator

Steps in IAMconnected

Link to organization

As the administrator of the sFTP connection, make sure you have a personal IAMconnected account and link it to the appropriate organization.

Link your account to an organization for access to services.

Your account is not yet linked to an organization.

- Is your organization already using IAMconnected? Link your account to your organization.
- Is your organization not yet using IAMconnected? Have a main administrator register your organization.

Safely connecting to Portbase

Maintain the sFTP connection

Portbase is renewing its technical landscape with the project 'Safely connecting to Portbase'. This means that we will be working with authenticated identities that manage the system connection(s) themselves. This way you can easily make changes such as changing the password or adding/removing users.
